New Mexico

The Episcopalians are about to erect a church in Santa Fe. Thermometers at Las Cruces indicate 101 in the shade.

New discoveries are made daily, at the Cerrillos mines.

S. H. Russell, new agent for the Mesalera Apaches, has arrived at South Fork, and taken charge of the agency.

A man, said to be 104 years old, has married a woman of 40 in Dona Anna.

John B. Hinds is the new Deputy U. S. Collector at Las Cruces.

Lewis Kimman has been ordered to locate the Santa Fe railroad from Las Vegas to the Rio Grande.

The Raton tunnel will be completed October 1, says a Denver Tribune writer.

Lieut. Stafford, Quartermaster of the 15th infantry was married to Miss Alice M. Smith, at Fort Wingate, on the 17th ult.

Work on the Raton tunnel is progressing rapidly. Of the two thousand feet to be driven, there is now completed some 675 feet on the north side and a little over 800 feet on the south side, leaving but 599 feet more to drive. The contractors think daylight will pass through the tunnel by the 4th of July.

The railroad track has reached the Ocate river, nearly 12 miles this side of the Cimarron.

San Francisco News Letter says: It is an ill wind that profits nobody, and our friends over the territorial line have good reasons for congratulating themselves upon the recent election in California. The new laws to go into effect on the 1st of January, proximo, especially those relative to corporations, will be so onerous in their effects that new mining investments in this state will for a season be almost suspended. Still, capital from the east and from Europe has centered in this city for this class of enterprises, and not finding the desired opportunities here, will seek them in Arizona, Nevada, Wyoming, Oregon and other outlying states and territories.

New incorporations for the prosecution of mining operations will probably be made in the state in which the mines are situated. We here of considerable eastern capital going into Arizona within a short time. The Vulture mine, with its immense deposits of gold-bearing quartz, the old Ajo copper mines, from which large quantities of very rich ore have been shipped in the past, and several other large properties are about being developed upon a very extensive scale. The Southern Pacific railroad brings Arizona almost to our very doors, and opens the commercial way for the valuable mineral deposits of that wonderfully rich country. The railroad is graded some fifteen miles beyond Maricopa, and by the 1st of July the locomotive will plow its way into Tucson. The papers from the east tell us of an awakening interest in Arizona matters, and Governor Fremont's visit there is doing a great deal of good. It is reported that Jay Gould and other well-known New York capitalists will accompany the Governor on his early return to Prescott, for the purpose of personally inspecting the country. The Utah Southern railroad is pushing its way rapidly toward Central Arizona, and soon a healthy railroad competition will be established, which will be of incalculable benefit to the territory. St. Louis and Chicago are already competing for the Arizona trade, and the near future may see the territory in a position to assert her independence of San Francisco. All these signs of progressive enterprise the News Letter has predicted from the first. The railroad is the open sesame to this wonderful country, and its importance is being daily made more apparent. It is the duty of San Francisco to see that the trade of our sister territory, now that it is a trade worthy of the name, should not slip away from us.
